JULIE RAMPELLO, PROJECT MANAGER/INSTRUCTOR OF PROJETECH, INC. RECEIVES MAXIMO 6 CERTIFICATION

Cincinnati, OH, April 5, 2007 - Ms. Julie Rampello has received her Maximo 6 Certification from IBM Software, and is now a Maximo 6 Certified EAM Consultant. Rampello is a Project Manager/Instructor at Projotech, Inc, a fast-growing, Cincinnati-based partner, provider, and seller of IBM Maximo® Software.

"Julie's certification is quite an achievement," says President and Owner of Projotech, Steve Richmond, "She has proven herself as an excellent Project Manager and Instructor. Our customers can feel confident that they are getting the best possible Maximo experience."

In mid-2006, MRO Software, Inc. (MROI) launched its Maximo Enterprise Suite (MXES) Certification Program and announced the availability of the Maximo 6 Certified EAM Consultant exam. The MRO Certification Program provides an impartial measure of a consultant's knowledge and ensures that Maximo Certified Consultants have demonstrated mastery of the subject matter necessary to deliver a successful implementation.

In order to qualify as a Maximo Certified Consultant, individual candidates must pass a rigorous computer-based exam specific to the Maximo application release. Maximo certification provides an impartial measurement of a consultant's knowledge and helps ensure the overall success of a Maximo implementation. MRO Software strongly recommends that customers employ consultants who have passed the demanding requirements of the MRO Software Certified Consultant Program. This certification signifies that Rampello has proven she is up to IBM/MRO standards of excellence in the latest version of Maximo software.

Rampello has been with Projotech for more than 12 years, and has spoken at many tradeshows and user groups relating to Maximo software.
