FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MACK PARROTT, MAXIMO ADMINISTRATOR/PROJECT MANAGER OF PROJETECH, INC. RECEIVES MAXIMO MXES CERTIFICATION

Cincinnati, OH, December 6, 2006 - Mr. Mack Parrott has received his Maximo MXES Certification from IBM and MRO Software, and is now a Maximo 6 Certified EAM Consultant. Parrott is a Maximo Administrator/Project Manager at Projetech, Inc, a fast-growing, Cincinnati-based partner, provider, and seller of IBM Maximo® Software.

"We are excited that Mack completed his Maximo MXES certification," says CEO and Owner of Projetech, Steve Richmond, "Our customers can feel confident that they are getting the best education. This brings a new level of excellence to our training staff."

In mid-2006, MRO Software, Inc. (MROI) launched its Maximo Enterprise Suite (MXES) Certification Program and announced the availability of the Maximo 6 Certified EAM Consultant exam. The MRO Certification Program provides an impartial measure of a consultant's knowledge and ensures that Maximo Certified Consultants have demonstrated mastery of the subject matter necessary to deliver a successful implementation.

In order to qualify as a Maximo Certified Consultant, individual candidates must pass a rigorous computer-based exam specific to the Maximo application release. Maximo certification provides an impartial measurement of a consultant's knowledge and helps ensure the overall success of a Maximo implementation. MRO Software strongly recommends that customers employ consultants who have passed the demanding requirements of the MRO Software Certified Consultant Program. This certification signifies that Parrott has proven he is up to IBM/MRO standards of excellence in the latest version of Maximo software.

Parrott is no stranger to holding prestigious certifications. He also holds certifications as a Certified Maintenance and Reliability Professional from the Society of Maintenance and Reliability Professionals, and Parrott is also a registered Professional Engineer.
